

The RGA 450 SC smoke extraction torch reduces the exposure of the welder to welding fumes and can be used without problems on existing MIG-MAG welding equipment.

The design of the ergonomic handle with ball joint ensures excellent handling of the torch.

By using high-quality materials, a torch has been developed with a high amperage that is still in the hand. Due to the air control slider integrated on the hanging handle during the welding can easily be regulated as required.

Adjustable extraction piece

Protection piece with rotatable connector

Adjustable slide

RGA 450 SC

